

ALLIANCE for CHILDREN'S RIGHTS

ANNUAL REPORT

2018-2019 Fiscal Year

Our mission is to protect the rights of children in poverty and those overcoming abuse and neglect by delivering free legal services, supportive programs and systemic solutions.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR 2018-2019 BOARD CO-CHAIRS

Rick Rosen & Chris B. Walther

For too many children in California who lack the basic necessities—security, healthcare, and education—reality falls short of the promise of childhood. The Alliance helps make up the gap by providing legal representation, supportive services, and policy solutions to help children and young adults find the nurturing conditions they deserve.

The breadth and effectiveness of our advocacy would not be possible without the steadfast commitment of our pro bono attorneys, partner foundations, donors, colleagues, and allies.

Thanks to this community, children and families that come to us in distress receive the aid of our tireless professional advocates, who rectify the challenges they face, without charging any fees for this vital work.

Our vision is a world in which all children have safe, permanent families with the support they need to thrive. Thank you for standing with us, for the many generous contributions, and for sharing in our vision to help us accomplish so much this year.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR CEO

Jennifer L. Braun

It is my great pleasure to share with you this 2019 Annual Report, reflecting the deep and lasting impact of the Alliance in the lives of children and young adults.

We represent children who have experienced foster care or need guardianships. Every story is different, but each child is healing from hardship. In these pages, we have chosen to highlight a few examples from among the 6,505 children and youth who we served this year.

When we meet our clients, they often are struggling to sort out confusing bureaucracies, with limited resources and while balancing a myriad of complicated needs. That's where the Alliance comes in. We are advocates, clearing barriers for children, youth, and the families who step up for them – representing them in schools, administrative agencies, and the courts. And while we're clearing barriers for these individual clients, we're also collaborating to better the systems that impact them.

This is an exciting time for child advocates in California. The state is a model of compassionate child welfare reform, thanks to our hard-won policy victories to support stability and wellbeing for young people. However, to deliver on the promise of those reforms, children, youth, and families need our ongoing support. We are continuing to work to ensure that all young people in foster care, including parenting youth, tribal youth, and youth attempting to navigate multiple systems, have what they need before they transition out of the system and are on their own.

In all of these efforts, we are a true alliance, made up of our extraordinary board, volunteers, community partners, philanthropic foundations and individuals, and staff. My appreciation for your commitment is boundless. Thank you so much for being a part of our life-changing work.

Thank you with all my heart to the amazing legal team that made a life-changing difference for me and my granddaughter. They relieved so many of my fears and worries and helped Lyric get everything she needed! Without legal protection from the Alliance, our life together would not be possible.”

Pro Bono partners (over 100 firms) donated over 27,000 hours worth over $11.5 M.

We trained 9,057 court, agency, school, and community partners to help them better provide for young people in foster care.

Sophie's Story

Adoption is a joyful event that marks the end of a child's time in foster care and the creation of a "forever family." But to heal the wounds of abuse and neglect, our clients need continued support beyond adoption day, when their foster care case concludes. Many families who have chosen permanency struggle to access supports that are essential to children's development. That is why we are piloting a new approach to providing advocacy services post-adoption, through the power of our extended pro bono network.

Sophie entered her grandmother's care, and the foster care system, at the time of her birth. The Alliance helped Sophie's grandmother legally adopt her, to provide them with permanency and stability as they navigate Sophie's childhood together.

Sophie has special hearing and learning needs that require weekly therapies. However, Sophie and her grandmother hit a barrier when the local regional center denied Sophie the speech, language and occupational therapy that she needs, saying they could not find an appropriate provider. Although Sophie's foster care case was closed, the Alliance and our pro bono legal team that handled Sophie's adoption stayed by the family's side, challenging the denial of services. Their sustained advocacy obtained the speech and learning therapies Sophie requires.

Thanks to their ongoing attentiveness to Sophie's developing needs, today Sophie is thriving in the care of her grandmother, learning to read and write alongside her kindergarten classmates.

Leo and Daniel's Story

Leo came to our attention after he accidentally discharged a loaded shotgun in the backseat of his mother's car, thinking that it was a toy.

Leo was physically unharmed, but a subsequent investigation led to Leo and his siblings being removed from their mother's care. They were placed with their father, Daniel, a young man who had aged out of foster care himself.

Daniel desperately wanted to raise his children, but he was homeless and without resources. An Alliance social worker provided the family with food, diapers, housing assistance, and emergency care kits. She stayed in touch with the family on a daily basis. She even was able to help Daniel enter a workforce program where he was able to resume his construction career. And we continue to offer Daniel and other young fathers a place to connect with each other, with educational opportunities, with parenting resources, and with legal services to sustain them and their young families.

This young father exemplifies the resilience and gratitude of our young adult clients, many of whom grew up without the support of family, and require only our attention and effort to find steady footing as independent adults.

Today, the young family is stable and thriving, and they express their ongoing appreciation to the Alliance for helping them build a future together.

We recovered $1.26m in benefits so that children have the support and services they need to thrive.

959 clients gained timely intervention and education services to help them overcome obstacles, learn, and build a brighter future.

Lucy's Story

As many as half of our young clients experience developmental delays resulting from early childhood neglect. For those children, the Alliance is often the only recourse to help them obtain timely interventions that make a world of difference over the course of their lifetimes.

When Lucy was born, she had been exposed to alcohol and methamphetamines, and was placed with a foster family. Before she entered her toddler years, Lucy began to show signs of delays affecting her development and motor skills. Her explosive behaviors stemming from frustration made it difficult for her to participate in preschool.

Lucy's foster family struggled to get her properly assessed for the developmental therapy that could help her. The Alliance stepped in, seeking a hearing to clear the roadblocks the family was facing. Not only did we gain access to developmental therapies to help Lucy thrive; we were also able to win retroactive services for Lucy to help her catch up. This early intervention during the critical months of Lucy's early childhood, while her brain is still developing, can make a life changing difference for Lucy, and for Lucy's future family.

We also ascertained that Lucy's foster family was not receiving the full support to which they were entitled to help them care for Lucy. Through effective advocacy, we ensured Lucy was properly assessed for specialized supports, resulting in additional funding that is projected to provide Lucy with the behavioral therapies that she needs over the projected course of her childhood. Lucy's family now will be able to access the services, activities, and, resources she needs for a healthy future.

In-Kind Donations

Hello Bello
Simon & Schuster

On behalf of the children and families we so proudly serve, we offer our sincere thanks for all the contributions to the Alliance for Children's Rights.

This list represents gifts of $500 or more received between April 1, 2018, and April 30, 2019. We strive to accurately recognize our donors and welcome any clarifications. To share any additional details or corrections to this list, or for more information on how to become involved with the Alliance, please contact:

Stephanie Lopez, Major Gifts and Events Manager, at s.lopez@kids-alliance.org or 213-388-6010 ext. 138

We are the Alliance because of you.

Without your ongoing participation, we would not be able to meet the demand for aid for children and youth in need throughout Los Angeles County and across California. Our pro bono attorneys, foundation and corporate partners, fellow advocates and individual supporters comprise a safety net for children who may otherwise slip through the cracks. Thank you for standing with us on behalf of vulnerable young people.
